FINAL CALL SOUNDS FOR SEN. LODGE

Republican Leader Succumbs to Second Operation

PAYS HIGH TRIBUTE

Member of Family at Side When Curtain is Drawn

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — Funeral services for United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, who died at the Charles Gate hospital here last night after a fight for life that surprised the doctors, will be held Wednesday at Christ Church, Cambridge, probably at noon, it was decided by his family today. It is believed that the senator will be buried in the Lodge family lot at Mount Auburn cemetery, Cambridge, will have been the scene of his death, the funeral services and of interment, although his long career in public life had brought him back only occasionally in recent years to the scenes of his college days at Harvard.

Bishop William Lawrence, who was in charge of the funeral, said that Senator Lodge will officiate at the services, assisted by Rev. Prescott Everts, rector of Christ Church.

It was at Christ Church that Senator Lodge was married, and it was from that church also that Mrs. Lodge was buried.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — (By Associated Press) — Henry Cabot Lodge, senior senator from Massachusetts, Republican leader of the senate, who served in that body for 31 years, is dead. The end came at the Charles Gate hospital here shortly before midnight.

Struck down last Wednesday just as he was making a rapid convalescence from his second operation within a few months, the 71-year-old senator was unconscious during most of the day intervening before his death.

For a brief period on Friday he rallied with remarkable vitality and regained consciousness for a few brief periods in which he spoke to his physician and the relatives at his bedside. He again relapsed into a coma, however, and his strength gradually ebbed away. His daughter-in-law, Mrs. John E. Lodge, his granddaughter, Miss Helena Lodge and two grandsons, John S. and Henry Cabot Lodge II, and his physician, Dr. John C. Cunningham, were at the bedside when he died.

Word of his death brought tributes from many places. Senator David I. Walsh, Democrat, shared with him the representation of Massachusetts in the upper house, said:

"Massachusetts has lost a statesman and a scholar who added more to her prestige than any other man in half a century."

Funeral services will be held at the home of Dr. William Surris Birelow, a lifelong friend of the senator and a fellow member of the class of 1871 at Harvard. Burial will be in the Lodge family lot at the Mount Auburn cemetery, Cambridge.

Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts served continuously in the United States Senate from 1893 until his death, during which time he was pointed out as "the scholar in politics."

He was born in leisure, but always worked. A principle laid down by him in early life was "the first thing to do, if a man of leisure is to do, is to really wish to count in his day and generation."

It was his theory that every man should "give of his leisure, more or less, to politics; for him to do so, and along with the historical researches he became interested in contemporary politics. His public career began with election to the Massachusetts House of Representatives in 1879. Six years as a member of Congress preceded his first election as senator. His oratory was distinguished by his practice of

STOCK LIST IS SENT HIGHER

Heavy Buying Carries Many Issues to New Peak

NEW YORK — (By Associated Press) — Another flood of buying orders poured into today's stock market carrying more than a score of issues to new peak prices for the year in the first fifteen minutes of trading on total sales in excess of 150,000 shares. Initial gains ranged from fractions to four points.

Rail shares continued to lead the advance, the new highs in this group including Southern Pacific, Rock Island common, Pennsylvania, Louisville and Nashville and Chicago and Eastern Illinois preferred.

They were closely pressed however by the oils, large blocks of which changed hands at steadily rising prices. The general industrial list also pointed upward. American Bank Note jumping four points to a new 1924 maximum at 145 while Consolidated Gas, United Drug, U. S. Cast Iron Pipe and several others also bettered their previous top prices.

Several of the larger commission houses reported the greatest week-end accumulation of buying orders in recent years. Foreign exchanges also opened strong.

CARROLL ACQUITTED

FIVE HELD IN LIQUOR VIOLATIONS

Two Severely Injured as Auto Hits Street Car

ALL BUT ONE DENY GUILT

Small Quantities of Alleged Intoxicants Are Seized

Five men who were caught in police dragnet in a number of liquor raids conducted over the week-end, faced Judge Neal Poling in criminal court Monday. Three pleaded not guilty to charges of possessing illicit liquor and another admitted his guilt on a similar charge. The fifth pleaded not guilty to a charge of transporting illicit liquor.

They are: C. W. Caskey, 37, 1107 N. Main-st; Joe Miller, 56, Hotel Allen; H. G. Young, 38, 1058 1-2 S. Main-st; L. L. Simmons, 28, colored, 1124 W. Spring-st; Herb Sites, 36, Wapakoneta.

Sites, who was jailed Sunday evening following an automobile accident in which he and Charles Jenkins, 41, of 620 W. High-st, were painfully lacerated and bruised about the face and shoulders, denied that the transported three pints of liquor, which were found in his car, into the city.

CAR HIT
Police claim Sites and Jenkins were under the influence of liquor at the time of the accident, which occurred when Sites attempted to avoid colliding with another automobile and crashed into a W. Wayne-st car at the intersection of Main and Kibby-sts.

Jenkins' head was forced thru the windshield by the force of the impact, and Sites' body was thrown into the steering wheel with such force that the wheel was snapped off. The front of the coupe was demolished.

Police Officers Grant and Harrison, who were present at the scene of the accident, called the Siford ambulance, removed the men to City hospital where their wounds were treated and dressed, after which they took them to Central station and placed them under arrest.

Sites was jailed in default of $500 bond to await trial on the transportation charge, and Jenkins, who pleaded not guilty to being drunk, was also remanded to jail pending a hearing, the date of which has not been set.

GUILT DENIED
Caskey, who was taken late Saturday after three police officers conducted a several hour search at his home and finally found two pints of purported "pooh" under the floor, denied his guilt and was freed on bond pending a hearing Friday afternoon, Nov. 14. Joe Miller, who was nabbed at the Hotel Allen with three quarts of rum, was also freed when he obtained bond in the sum of $500. Date for his hearing has not been set.

H. G. Young, who was arrested Saturday night after a raid on his home netted a quart of alleged intoxicants, according to police records, denied his guilt and was jailed in default of bond to await trial.

L. L. Simmons, arrested Sunday night with a small quantity of corn liquor in his possession, was the only member of the quintet to admit his guilt. He pleaded guilty and his case was taken under advisement by Judge Neal Poling.

NEGROES DRIVEN OUT IN FIGHT

Uprising Follows Slaying of Kentucky Youth

GUARDSMEN ARE CALLED

Armed Men Herd 500 Colored Camp Workmen

HARRISBURG, Ky. — (By Associated Press) — Armed white workmen drove out approximately 500 negroes from the construction camp of the Dix river dam, eight miles from here last night after Edward Winkley, 18, a bridegroom of only a few days, had been fatally shot by negro highwaymen.

Fifth national guardsmen arrived at the Dix river dam construction camp shortly after 8:30 o'clock this morning and immediately established themselves. One detachment remained on guard at the dam and another, upon request of the contractors of the dam work, was used as an escort to protect negro workmen who were being returned.

All negroes will be paid off, it was announced, and those who wish to remain will be retained on the company's payroll.

Walter Chance and John Williams, both negroes, were arrested by Sheriff Walter Kennedy at the dam and hurried to Danville for safekeeping.

One of them, the sheriff said, was known as "Big Jelly Roll" and the other "Little Jelly Roll."

Sheriff Kennedy last night intercepted a crowd driving negroes before them four miles from camp and probably prevented a lynching and bloodshed. Some of the negroes were barefooted and many of them were scantily clad.

The negroes were directed to a rock quarry near Burgin and kept there. Bandages were kept burning thru the chilly night to protect them from the weather and food was brought from the Dix river dam by L. E. Myers and Co., the contractors.

The murdered man detailed to companions, ten minutes before his death, how three negroes at tempted to rob him and said he had been shot by "Jelly Roll." A wound thru the left lung and another thru the neck which severed an artery caused Winkley to bleed profusely as he related his story. "Jelly Roll" shot him, he said, after he had resisted their efforts to rob him.

News of the slaying spread quickly thru the camp and adjoining farming sections. Farmers and white workers at the dam rushed to the construction camp armed themselves with rifles, pistols, shotguns, pitchforks and other weapons and stormed the negro bunk houses. Those not armed seized stones and threw them at the negroes as they fled.

Marshal T. J. Royalty, leaving church at Burgin, was on his way when from down the road he heard a command "hands up." Going to the place he discovered about 60 white men surrounding the hundreds of negroes at the Burgin depot. A few moments later Sheriff Kennedy arrived. The officers demanded that the mob allow law and order to prevail.

The mob finally turned back leaving the officers in charge of the situation at Burgin. Members of the mob had told the officers it was their intention to flag a train at Burgin and send the negroes away on it.

There was but one woman among the negro refugees. There being no building in Burgin large enough to hold them, they were taken to the quarry, where the ladies sheltered them from the wind. Some were bareheaded and barefooted. Most of them were scantily clad.

DYNAMITE FOUND UNDER BRIDGE

Mysterious Call Received by Police Department

Two sticks of dynamite and a number of fuses in a wooden box labeled "explosives" were found hidden under the Bellefontaine bridge over the Ottawa river late Sunday evening by two police officers.

The discovery by police followed a phone call received at police headquarters from a man who refused to reveal his identity, and who told the desk sergeant the exact location of the box.

How the stuff happened to be placed under the bridge and who hid it there, police have been unable to learn. A theory which was advanced that some person intended blowing up the bridge was discredited by police.

G.O.P. SOLONS TO NAME LEADER

Death of Senator Lodge Makes New Deal Necessary

CHANCE FOR COOLIDGE

President Will Have Opportunity of Exerting New Power

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — The death of Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, Republican leader of the senate just as his party was preparing to harvest the fruits of a sweeping victory at the polls, surrounds the question of leadership in the senate with new and unusual considerations.

A veteran of the old guard, adamant against the policies of the LaFollette insurgents on the one hand and unable to accept some of the proposals of the Republican administration on the other, the Massachusetts patriarch more than once found his title as Republican floor leader somewhat of an anomaly. Now that the powerful equation of his personal influence has been removed from the problem, party chiefs face the task of deciding what new alignment can be effected to fill the gap and make for party solidarity.

In the determination of this question, President Coolidge undoubtedly will have an opportunity to wield the dominant power of party leadership conferred on him by Tuesday's election. It he can lead to give his influence will be a powerful factor in deciding whether the old guard is to remain as the directing force of the senate or whether seniority is to be cast aside and some new leader lifted to a position of command.

This question assumes a still greater significance when it is considered that the new congress, which meets next year, will see a substantial increase in Republican senate strength, bringing into the situation new and untied quantities. In view of the changes to take place as a result of the election just held, and the close balance in the present congress, any permanent reorganization of the Republican side may be delayed for some months and a temporary leader designated to act during the short winter session.

Should no sweeping readjustment of the senate situation be attempted, it is probable that Senator Warren, of Wyoming or Senator Curtis of Kansas, will become floor leader. But if there is to be a new deal all around, those to be considered probably will include widespread of New York, Almon of New Hampshire, Wilson of Indiana and Reed of Pennsylvania.

"Roll Call" To Flash Thru Air

NEW YORK — (By Associated Press) — Will Walter, broadcast in on his radio tomorrow he will hear the "Roll Call," his huckle composition in commemoration of the world war dead.

Krebs, who was too young to enlist during the war conceived the idea of a commemorative huckle call four years ago. Most of last year he devoted to an effort to convince every governor in the country that his air should be played on Armistice Day and as a result many states have played the "Roll Call" on their memorial programs. It will lead the ceremonies as a signal to announce the minute of silence to be observed by all at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. The call will be sounded by batteries also.

BODIES OF TWO STILL MISSING; BOAT IS FOUND

Discovery Made Near Place Where the Three Hunters Were Last Seen—Boat and Hat Had Been Found Earlier Monday by the Many Searchers

Cries for Help Heard but Efforts to Reach Men Had Proven Fruitless—Craft Overturns When It Becomes Lodged on Stump of Tree

(BULLETIN)

Searchers found the body of Roger Boose shortly after 1 p. m. Monday. It was lodged about 200 feet from the place where the three were last seen Saturday night by Al Fisher. It will be taken to Van Horn's undertaking establishment where it will be viewed by the coroner.

The cold, now placid waters of Indian lake, which are believed to hold the bodies of Roger Boose, W. Pierce Cahill and Harold Dabold, undoubtedly drowned during a storm late Saturday, continued to give up more and more evidence Monday that the three went down to watery graves during their duck hunting expedition.

First the oars of the boat in which they were hunting were found, then the stranded boat, lodged on a sand bar and then the slouch hat worn by Cahill when he was last seen. The hat was picked up from the water shortly after noon Monday and was regarded by experienced lake men as conclusive evidence that the men had drowned.

Altho a score of boats loaded with searchers have been dragging the lake all day, The Lima News representative who has been on the scene since early Monday morning, reported at 1 p. m. that those who know the ways of the lake fear that the bodies will never be recovered.

Bodies of Roger Boose, 32, 1028 W. Market-st, W. Pierce Cahill, 42, of 206 N. Washington-st, and Harold H. Dabold, 21, of 126 1-2 W. High-st, given up as drowned in Indian Lake off Turkeyfoot island late Saturday, may never be found. The men had been hunting wild ducks from a small boat.

This was indicated Monday when searching crews discovered the small boat in which they had been hunting Saturday afternoon but could find no trace of the missing men. The boat was found by Wallace Faulder on a sand bar about 200 feet off Big Flag island. The propeller and rudder of the small outboard motor used to drive it were imbedded in the sand, thus keeping the craft from drifting away.

There were no holes in the bottom of the boat showing that it had evidently sank following its becoming filled with water or thru being stranded on a stump.

This latter theory is believed to be the correct one regarding the accident as Al Fisher and Alvey Stephenson, residents along the lake, report having seen the three between 5 and 6 p. m., Saturday as they were passing thru Hurley channel.

MANY STUMPS IN LAKE CHANNEL
Hurley channel is deep enough for boats to pass thru without danger but to each side the lake becomes shallow and there are many tree stumps upon which a boat may become lodged. The men say they saw the three occupants in the boat over in the shallow water and that one was standing up with an oar apparently trying to get the boat off a stump.

As there were no calls for help and nothing out of the way seemed visible the two men went on. It is believed that the Lima men did not take their predicament seriously.

Shortly after dark Fred Arbogast and a friend by the name of Doble passed thru the channel and thought they heard calls for help. They halted and called back a number of times but when they received no answer they passed on. They did not leave the channel as they did not know the lake well enough.

"Dad" Tolm is believed to have been the first one to hear the calls for help. He lives on Blackhawk island near the scene of the accident and immediately upon hearing the cries sounded a warning.

The state patrolman and a party went out on the lake to look for the source of the cries but after a five hour search were forced to give up.

The boat was rented from the L. F. Hull boat house at Turkeyfoot about 3 p. m. and the three started against the wind toward Blackhawk island.

Reconstruction of the incident that cost the men their lives has been made from the facts as revealed. It is as follows:

The men rowed to Blackhawk and were just off the main line of travel thru the Hurley channel looking for wild duck. Each one had a liberal supply of ammunition and wore heavy boots.

While looking for ducks the boat is believed to have lodged on a stump. None of the occupants of the boat had any fear as this is a common occurrence. They apparently did not know, however that the lake was several feet lower than normal, thus making the stumps much more treacherous.

WAVES HIGH
Waves were running about a foot high at this time and from all indications it was either a high wave or an unlooked for twist of the boat that threw it to one side and turned it over.

Friends believe that the three clung to the boat and called for help. Gradually they became weakened and slipped to the bottom of the lake, it is feared. The boat then drifted to the place where it was found Monday.

Events leading up to the tragedy were related Monday by W. (Continued on Page Two)

PREPARE FOR GAS FAMINE

COLUMBUS — (By United Press) — Stores selling oil burners and electrical heating appliances were swamped today as the Columbus gas company prepared to shut off the city's gas supply at midnight.

The only hope of relief was seen in a suit to be heard in the local courts today, thru which the city seeks to enjoin the shut-off.

At last week's election the voters authorized a forty-cent gas rate and the gas company claims it can not afford to supply the city at that figure.

Approximately 22,000 homes will be without fuel for cooking if the gas goes off.

He also designated Secretary Woods and Captain Adolph Andrews as a delegate to represent him at the funeral.

He leaves his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Frank Smith and Mrs. B. Norman, and three sons, William, Frederick and Elmer, all of this city.

Funeral services will be conducted at the home of Mrs. Smith, corner Ninth and Norval-st, Tuesday at 2 p. m. Burial will be in Fletcher cemetery.

ANNIVERSARY IS
SUCCESSMany Attend Memorial Hall
Meeting Honoring Welty

Celebration here both Saturday night and Sunday afternoon and evening of the 35 years of service among the poor given by Rev. A. D. Welty, superintendent of the Lima Rescue Home, was a success from every angle, Rev. Roy Welty, son of the superintendent, announced Monday.

Rev. John Callahan, chaplain of Tombs prison, New York City, was the principal speaker during the celebration, at which a total of more than 1,000 people attended. Callahan spoke during both the afternoon and evening services and also before 65 firemen and policemen at Central fire station in the afternoon.

A dispatch from Lexington this morning told of the arrival there of 19 men from a Dix river construction camp. All of them said they had been driven from camp by a mob of farmers, white laborers and others armed with clubs, sticks, pistols, shotguns and other weapons.

The executive after first declaring he had heard nothing of the affair, said the fifty-fourth machine gun squadron left at 4 a. m. for High Bridge. "It was the only unit called out," he said.

Nobody slept at the executive mansion all night, Mrs. Fields said this morning.

A report from Harrodsburg this morning said that "Jelly Roll" had been killed somewhere between Harrodsburg and High Bridge. No confirmation could be obtained, however.

NEGROES DRIVEN

They were trembling from fright. Railroad crosses and two truck loads of coal were taken to the quarry and fires were built for the negroes.

Sheriff Kennedy conferred with County Judge Ben C. Allen here and at 3 o'clock this morning the latter called Governor Fields and asked that troops be sent at once.

After receiving the call Sunday night, Governor Fields directed Adjutant General James A. Kehoe to have soldiers in readiness. General Kehoe with other officers, left Frankfort at 4 o'clock this morning in automobiles with detachments from troop A, 54th machine gun squadron, and the 38th division train wagon company. They went directly to the dam.

Operations on the dam construction were resumed this morning the force of workmen. Foreign laborers comprised most of the workers on duty.

Last Wednesday was pay-day at the dam camp and several robberies occurred. They were reported to authorities but no arrests had been made.

TROOPS ORDERED OUT
FRANKFORT, Ky. — (By the Associated Press) — National guard troops were hurriedly dispatched to the Dix river dam in Mercer county about 25 miles south-east of Frankfort, early today when reports of race rioting reached the adjutant general's office here. The trouble is believed to have started with the robbery and slaying last night of Edward Winkle, 35, a dam worker.

Winkle was shot to death by a negro called "Jelly Roll," peace officers were informed by Judge Fred C. Becker. The court also imposed a $200 fine and costs.

If he violates the order of the court, compelling him to live with a brother in Marion, Ind., he will have to serve six months in the penitentiary of correction in Toledo.

Underwood was indicted by the September grand jury on complaint of his wife, who charged that he beat her during a domestic altercation.

"If you come back to Lima," warned Judge Becker, "it will mean six months in jail. If you agree to stay in Marion, you will be free."

Underwood agreed to stay in Harrodsburg.

Kipker, inspector of lives, and Sergeant Ed Grant went to "Roost" Friday morning to the duck hunting grounds.

Kipker told the following of the hunting trip: "Friday evening Boose's cottage, two miles from the lake and near where we are hunting, was the scene of the tragedy. At 5:30 a. m. the three got into our hunting outfit for the hole. We reached there we separated in the flags around the lake. When Boose left us, 'Kip, if you fellows get lost, yell, and if I'm first, I'll yell.' "We never heard him when we separated at the lake. The last Sergeant Grant saw of him.

"Shortly after 11 a. m. Grant and Thompson went to Lima, as the sergeant went on duty at 3 p. m. I myself hunted during the der of the afternoon.

"When 5 p. m. we left the house, I found a note from Boose, which read, 'Come Kip, and I'll have dinner ready.' "We went on to the cottage and found the three missing. Boose's meal on the kitchen table, but there was no indication that anyone had eaten within a few minutes later we found the second note.

"I found this one, which told us to turn out the gasoline stove and go home. I've found another to get back to Lima." It was ten on a box cover, and was evidently from Boose, who, I found later, intended to return to Dabolt."

Chief of Police T. A. Kipker went down to Lake Erie Monday. A little in the morning Chief John Kipker and assistant took the department's hooks, poles and apparatus to Lakeview to search.

Then Mrs. Deering came knocking at the head of Mr. Eckel.

They questioned Mrs. Deering.

IT WAS "LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT" FOR HENRY FORD

Home Loving and Unpretentious Is Mrs. Ford, Who as "The Believer" Spurred Husband to Success After Romantic Meeting at "Barn Dance"

DETROIT, Mich. — (Special) — It was "love at first sight" for Henry Ford!

There was something about little Clara Bryant, who lived on a farm near Redford, Mich., that attracted Henry.

And that attraction grew rapidly, and three years later the Bryant girl became Mrs. Henry Ford, destined to be the wife of one of the world's richest men, and herself probably the world's richest woman.

Thirty-nine years ago at a barn dance near Dearborn, Mich., Ford, then a tall, thin, gangling youth, espied a small, pretty girl with expressive blue eyes and long chestnut-colored hair.

He obtained an introduction. They sat out two "square dances" to talk about his hobby—watchmaking. She was sympathetic. He showed her a queer watch he made. It had two sets of hands, recording both standard time and sun time.

FIRE HIS AMBITIONS

She was enthusiastic, forgetting entirely about the two dances. She fired his ambitions. She had faith in him, he knew. And he fell in love with her there and then. Ever since she has had faith in him.

"I knew only a few minutes after talking to her that she was the one for me," Ford said recently. "I was sure from the start. And it's always been that way with me since. She had faith. She was a believer. I never had a word of discouragement from her."

But Mrs. Ford didn't fall in love with Henry right off the bat. It was nearly a year later.

"He impressed me very much as he didn't talk about the useless things which young men usually talk about," she says in telling of their courtship.

"But I didn't fall in love with him until about a year later. We waited two more years before marrying."

SAYS HENRY CARELESS

"I have always waited on him, and still do. He's a careless man. He's a clean man, but he's careless. He'll drop his collar and his clothes about anywhere, and I have to go picking up after him. I don't say anything about it."

"I don't scold because I know his mind is full of bigger things and he's not conscious of what he is doing."

She warns wives against a "greed for cleanliness," declaring such an attitude carried to extremes will drive husbands out to the friendly club, where he can drop ashes where he will.

The greatest hours of their romantic lives were the last 48 hours that her husband worked on his first automobile which was to carry them to fame and fortune. Forty-eight hours without sleep.

WATCHED SUCCESS

The second night Mrs. Ford sat up until 2 a. m., when the little car was finished and ready for a try-out. It was raining and Mrs. Ford threw a cloak over her shoulders and followed Henry to the small shop near the house.

MRS. HENRY FORD AND HOME THEY LIVED IN BEFORE FORD BECAME RICH.

Ford rolled the car out into the alley and started it. It ran only a short distance. But it ran. One of the foothills of the mountain of success had been topped.

But there were other hills to climb. When Ford drove his odd-looking contrivance, horses balked, drivers swore, jeering crowds gathered.

The populace called him "crazy" and "half cracked." But thru it all Mrs. Ford stood by him—urging him on with her confidence. She was about the only person who had the "nerve" to endure the hoots of the crowd and ride thru Detroit streets with him in his "horseless carriage."

HOME-LOVING WOMAN

Home-loving and thoroughly unpretentious is this tremendously rich woman.

Despite her millions, she dresses like any middle-class woman. She cares nothing for jewels. In dresses the shades she likes are brown and blue. Mink and sable are her favorite furs.

Mrs. Ford believes that good cooking is the biggest part of a woman's job. That's her forte. Indeed she refused to have any servants around her house until a few years ago. She's proudest of her apple pie. She calls it "bird's-nest pie."

"It's quite simple to make," she says.

And Henry likes it.

COUNTRY LIFE BODY MEETS

O. S. U. Head Urges Social Service Among Farmers

COLUMBUS — (By Associated Press) — Committee reports and sectional conferences occupied today's session of the seventh annual conference of the American Country Life Association. Reports covered rural education and organization.

Harrison Elliott, of the United Theological Seminary, New York, was the only speaker at the morning session, discussing the proper consideration to be given proposals for improvement in rural districts.

Endeavoring to agree on plans for advancement of religious, social and economic work in rural communities, the conference is attended by representatives of practically every agency engaged in country work. The association was founded eight years ago as an outgrowth of an idea advanced by Theodore Roosevelt while president.

A session tonight was devoted to hearing of reports on cultural social welfare work and home-making.

Dr. William O. Thompson, president of Ohio State University, address a session of the conference last night declared the farmers had been slow to accept the new idea and that personal social and community service must be a part of any program adopted.

"A certain partisanship has got into our religion," he asserted. "I know of no community that is now served better by one church than it was formerly by three. I am entirely willing to forget that I am a Presbyterian if in its place there is another organization better organized to further the work of God."

YOUTH IS ADDED TO GASOLINE FIRE TOLL

SISTERVILLE, W. Va. — Fourteen-year-old Harold Scott, whose mother, father and sister died yesterday when 4,000 gallons of gasoline exploded on the Scott farm near here, died early today. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Scott, and the daughter, Pauline, aged 11, died a few hours after they were caught under a shower of flaming gasoline.

Scott was superintendent of the farm. He had inspected a number of tanks, a small container with a capacity of 200 gallons, exploded, breaking the connections to the larger tank. Attracted by the blast, all four members of the Scott family were nearby when the big tank blew up.

The damage was estimated at $25,000.

LIQUOR PROTEST REACHES COURT

Jury to Pass on Volstead Provision

BALTIMORE, Md. — Before the case of Representative John Philip Hill, the Baltimore member of congress who is charged with violations of the Volstead act in the manufacture and possession of wine and other liquors in the United States court here today Hill said that he would not deny any of the material facts in the case.

"What we are after," he said, "is an interpretation of Section 2 of the Volstead act as it applies to wine and other liquors."

The indictments against Hill contain counts and are the result of the manufacture by him of his home-made wine, which he sold to others.

He said that the one-half of one per cent provision does not apply, then we will expect the jury to determine what is "intoxicating in fact."

SAFER PLANES IS FATHER'S PLEA

Parent of Dead Pilot Would Prevent Future Crashes

CLEVELAND — (By United Press) — The army air service should be equipped with safe planes or abandoned altogether, F. E. Skeel, father of Capt. Burt E. Skeel, killed when his plane crashed in midair during the Pulitzer speed classic at Dayton last month, declared today in a letter to Congressman Theodore Burton and Major General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the army air service.

Skeel charges that the death of his son was due to improper equipment.

"I believe I have the right to speak," the elder Skeel's letter says, "being a native born American citizen, a taxpayer and a father who furnished two sons for the last war, one of them remaining in the service until his life was needlessly sacrificed, Oct. 4, 1918."

"If the death of Capt. Skeel, which has been a crushing blow to his parents can be the means of changing these conditions so that the air service is abated money enough to buy the best equipment available, and this money saved for the finest men of our land can be stopped, we can, to some extent, be recommended to the terrible loss we have met."

Skeel lives in Cleveland Heights.

EXPORT BUYING
RESUMEDWheat and Rye Prices Near
Top for 1924 Crop

CORN, OATS MAKE GAINS

Dry Weather in Argentina May Decrease World Supply

The grain market developed a firmer tone during the week ending Nov. 8, according to the weekly grain market review of the United States Department of Agriculture, and a neat and rye price advanced to near the high point of the crop. Corn and oats were firmer and advanced about two cents per bushel for the week ending Friday. The barley market advanced steadily while flax gained about 10 cents per bushel. Renewed export buying of good volume, together with a falling off in the country movement was the principal strengthening factor in the wheat and rye markets. Foreign crop also less favorable. Continued dry weather in Argentina and some deterioration in crop prospects in that country and Argentine exporters were reported to be buying back forward contracts in London.

While no definite figures are available, it appears that more wheat than usual has been sold from the Argentine and that farm stocks are materially less than at the same time last year notwithstanding the increased production. Also the position of the wheat market has become very firm, the only weakening factor of importance being the large visible supply, totaling around 90,000,000 bushels.

EXPORTS HEAVY
Exports to date total nearly 100,000,000 bushels, compared with about half that amount for the same period last year. Flour production has consumed about 17,000,000 bushels more wheat than during the first four months of last year but most of this has been accounted for in the inland exports.

Cash wheat prices followed the futures and advanced about 10 cents per bushel during the week. No. 1 hard spring and No. 1 dark northern were quoted at the December price of 20 cents over, but the bulk of the sales were around 12 to 14 cents over the December price at Minneapolis. Receipts fell off slightly at both Minneapolis and Duluth but were still of large volume. Durum prices were also higher showing a gain for the week ending Friday.

There was a more active demand for hard winter wheat both from mills and exporters. Export bids advanced and heavy sales on the exchange were reported. Wheat somewhat relieved the congestion at Kansas City and other hard winter wheat markets. Interior mills were more active buyers because of the possibility of a shortage of wheat for their local requirements later in the crop year, eased by the heavy movement of wheat from the farms at this time. Soft winter wheat also shared in the advance of spring and hard winter but milling demand was of small volume because of a less active demand for soft winter wheat flour.

Higher prices for rice in the European markets were reflected in the active demand and higher prices for American rice. Export sales were again large and greater interest was also buying rice to fill contracts for export. The position of the rice market continues very firm because of the smaller world supply.

NEW CORN
There was an increased movement of new corn during the week, receipts of old corn also were large while the demand was more active than for some time. Cash prices advanced two to three cents in most of the markets. New corn is selling at higher prices than old corn under the old contract on condition and based on content. Iowa is reported to be buying corn out of Kansas, which is unusual but reflects the poor condition of the crop in that state.

There was some improvement in the demand for oats and prices advanced. Stocks, however, continue large although the country demand has become somewhat firmer. Buyers were more active and there was some buying. Oats exports, however, are not been large, totaling about 3 1/2 million bushels.

The market was dull for part of the week, but the lack of a good market situation, however, advanced with other commodities a good carrying charge was created a better offer was well.

Available news from the crop demand for the strengthening of the market. Rain and also caught some outburst and it is that some of this crop will be threshed under.

Consumption in Europe of States is estimated at 100,000 bushels, making for seed requirements. According to the supply this is only about 70,000,000 bushels distributed as follows: States 59,000,000; Europe 16,000,000; Argentina 23,000,000.

THIS ARE CHECKED
The 12-hour checkers have been checking the forest fire in the time threatened to burn more than 10,000,000 acres of all stored in tanks near.

Forest fires in five other sections of Kentucky were reported to be being cut.

Artist E. R. Higgins Watches Gould Dollars Take Wing
And Fly Away As Legal Machine Grinds Its Grist

BY E. R. HIGGINS

Every time a lawyer opened his mouth during the suit between the heirs of Jay Gould it seemed to me that I could see dollars roll out and take wing. This is the most expensive litigation in the annals of American law. Every minute of the hearing before Referee James A. O'Gorman costs the Goulds $41. Yet none of the Goulds who appeared as witnesses seemed to be in any particular haste to answer questions.

URGES CHURCHES
TO ADVERTISENewspapers Will Be Used to Reach Masses

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press) — Newspaper advertising by churches throughout the country is urged as part of the campaign to "call people to the church" in a statement issued today by the commission of evangelism of the Federal Council of Churches.

Cooperation by business offices of newspapers to make the advertising effective has been asked by the church organization.

The advertising will be placed by local churches or church organizations and will be in addition to church items printed in news columns.

Dr. Charles L. Goodell, secretary of the commission explained that since "news columns cannot as a rule carry the straight Gospel message," its place is in the advertising columns. In this way he said, the church can reach people who never enter the church.

"They are the people, many of them friendly to the church, but indifferent, that we want to reach in this campaign," he added. "The church has never realized the wonderful opportunity of the advertising columns. Too often it has been satisfied with using them for mere announcements of service and this has its place and is worth while, the church must realize its greater task of using advertising for the story of salvation."

BIRTH CONTROL
WAR WAGES

England Shaken by Statements of King's Physician

CLERGY WILL ANSWER

Protest is Made by Woman Who Gives Views

LONDON — (By United Press) — Lord Dawson of Penn., the king's physician, has precipitated a nation-wide wordy war between advocates and opponents of birth control.

Maude Royden, noted preacher, was the only one of a large number of British clergy opposing control to answer Lord Dawson Sunday, but this was only because the physician's strategy in carrying the fight to the enemy's camp had caught the latter unaware.

Others announced they would take up the challenge flung by Lord Dawson on Friday, speaking before the national birthrate commission of the national council of public morals, with the Bishop of Winchester presiding, the royal physician presented a spirited defense of birth control.

He defended sex love aside from the duty of procreation and declared marital abstinence to be harmful.

Birth control, he said, was inevitable, unless the world wished to return to its former condition of over-large families and high death rate.

Clergymen, the physician said, were forced into hypocrisy when they fell in love.

"They have the same passions and practice them with the same fervor as the best of us," Lord Dawson exclaimed. "The church makes them implicitly condemn sex love—which they themselves practice not only for procreation, but entirely apart therefrom."

"The mere statements that birth control is immoral, that it is contrary to teachings of Christianity and condemned by the Bible will only bring discredit on those who make them, especially among the young, who matter most."

British clergy who oppose birth control were startled by the attack.

PROTEST IS MADE
Maude Royden raised her voice in protest. She said the ideal methods was abstinence, except where children are wanted. Mrs. Royden confessed, however, that she favored control, "where the alternatives are unattractiveness or alienation on the part of those declining self-control, and a due nervous strain, where self-control is exercised; birth of undesirable children; or, in the worst case, the postponement of the marriage."

"As these matters are serious," Miss Royden said, "I advocate dissemination of knowledge regarding birth control by properly qualified men and women doctors in the field of birth control."

THE CREAM SLOGAN
CLEVELAND — (By United Press) — With the traffic death toll here reaching 151 since the start of the year, Judge Martin Sweeney today announced drastic methods of dealing with reckless and drunken drivers.

Flagrant traffic law violators will lose their auto licenses for six months or a year and will be forced to make daily trips thru the Hamilton hospital for crippled children under Judge Sweeney's plan.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one of two Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.
